Dear Debra,

Questor for a Cure Raises $15 100

Be a Lifesaver

The Ride To Conquer Cancer

We are very proud of our team Questor for a Cure, who collectively met their fundraising goals, and achieved their athletic challenge as they biked over 215 kms from Toronto to Niagara Falls.

Overall the 3500 participants raised $14.5 million for The Campbell Family Cancer Research Institute at the Princess Margaret Hospital.

Missing in our Questor pics is our own David Kendal who was fundamental organizing Questor for a Cure, and he was so keen he kept on riding past the finish line But seriously, we are pumped and ready to do it again next year.

Every single one of us has been touched in some way by cancer in our lives, but not all of us can commit to cycle over 200 kms.

We can however make a difference, and your contribution is a lifesaver...quite literally.

Industry Leader with Q Link Technology

We are not always out fundraising, most of our time is spent on hard work and innovation, and thankfully the government agrees.

Questor was awarded the Scientific Research and Experimental Development Claim and is eligible for the Ontario Innovation Tax Credit (OITC).

While we share this recognition with many leading edge companies, what is notable is that the claim is not typically awarded to a financial services company, indicating that Questor stands out as an industry leader with our commitment to developing our Q Quote and Q Link sales tools for equipment vendors.
