PROFIComments

Greetings!

Proficom's E- newsletter is designed to showcase our Commitment & Expertise to help you increase your sales and revenue with equipment leasing.

The theme of this edition is reflections on the Month of March.

The Cold in Calling

When Sales Calls are Chilly...

There is a school of thought that says cold calling as a sales technique is a waste of effort.

For most sales professionals today, cold calling is an outdated concept.

Jeffrey Gitomer calls cold calls a rude interruption to a prospective customer by a sales person that is too lazy to network; or earn a referral.

With Spring around the corner, we should all be reminded that sales is an active profession that requires us to get up and go out an engage others with our products and services--even when it is a litte chilly out still...

Records Broken in March!

Proficom is proud to announce that March has delivered a record number of vendors using PROFIQuote, breaking all previous numbers, even before the month's end!

Why such success?

For vendors selling capital equipment, an understanding of the leasing process is vital.

In today's competitive environment, potential buyers need to know what your equipment can do for them, but also how they're going to pay for it.

If you do not address the second issue, someone else will.

Perhaps a competitor?

March to Different Drummer

What does HTTP mean anyway...?

Tim Berners-Lee and his physicist colleagues at CERN, an international scientific organization based in Geneva Switzerland, wanted to develop a method for computers to share sensitive information.

The Hypertext Transfer Protocol was born- it is the set of rules for exchanging files (text, graphic images, sound, video, and other multimedia files) on the World Wide Web.

The team also developed a whole new lexicon including HTML (hypertext markup language) used to create web pages, HTTP (HyperText Transfer Protocol) and URLs (Universal Resource Locators).

Today, these concepts have changed the nature of communication internationally.
